Closing Date: Tuesday, October 15, 2013

In a state agency Information Technology (IT) environment, this class is accountable for performing the most complex and technical support work and/or acting as a working supervisor of Information Technology Analysts engaged in information systems development or technical support.

Eligibility Requirement: Candidates must have applied for and passed the INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY ANALYST 3 exam and be on the current certification list promulgated by the Department of Administrative Services. State employees currently holding the INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY ANALYST 3 or those who have previously attained permanent status in this class may apply for a lateral transfer. Applicants will not have the opportunity to take the exam prior to the above closing date to qualify for this particular vacancy.

Preferred candidate must have extensive working knowledge and experience in mainstream object-oriented programming (specially, Java, C# or VB.NET), as well as some experience in XML, javascript/css, and enterprise relational database systems (including extensive SQL experience). Preference will be given to candidates with experience in the following software technologies: (a) Ext-JS (Siesta a plus), (b) Java Persistence API (JPA), (c) Java API for XML Web Services (JAX-WS), (d) Java API for XML Rest Services (JAX-RS), (e) Java Messaging Service (JMS), (f) JUnit, (g) Maven, (h) GlassFish Application Server, (i) JasperReports, (j) SQL Server, and (k) Subversion. .NET-oriented developers who are self-starters and have experience in comparable .NET technologies and a strong aptitude and drive to learn the corresponding Java technologies are encouraged to apply. Once hired, the new hire will perform all tasks associated with enterprise system programming, including the following: (a) development/review of functional and technical requirements, (b) database design, (c) application design, (d) server-side application programming, (e) client-side application programming, (f) testing (unit, integration, and regression), (g) legacy data migration, (h) source code management, (i) application security, (j) issue tracking and resolution, (k) system administration, (l) database administration, (m) report development, (n) system maintenance/enhancements, and (o) Level 2 Help Desk support. In addition to these programming duties, the new hire will need to meet regularly with business users and other stakeholders to understand business needs, communicate technical/functional issues/constraints, and troubleshoot miscellaneous issues. The new hire will assist in the maintenance/development of other information systems and perform miscellaneous duties as members of the Information Services Unit, as required. Finally, the new hire will be expected to continually develop his/her knowledge and skills of mainstream Java (and related) technologies.

Note: The filling of this position will be in accordance with reemployment, SEBAC, transfer, promotion rules.

Application Instructions: Interested and qualified candidates who meet the above requirements should submit a resume, cover letter, CT-HR/12 (State Application) & CT-HR/13 (Addendum), and two (2) letters of professional references from current and/or previous supervisors. State employees must submit two most recent performance appraisals in lieu of references by Tuesday, October 15, 2013, close of business to:
