DOC Services May Surprise You

Unbeknownst to many state agencies, municipalities and non-profits, the Department of Correction (DOC) has a catalog full of services from which to choose. From woodworking and cabinet making, to silk screening and embroidery, plus a bevy of promotional items, the Department of Correction might be the answer to your ordering and budgeting problems.

“DOC could be the answer to your prayers,” said DAS Team Leader Don Casella. “A number of contracts have been put on hold due the current budget situation, but you may still find a way to get things accomplished through the use of DOC contract 06PSX0377.”

“And saving money is on everyone’s mind these days,” said DAS Contract Specialist Ada Rivera. “What you’ll notice in the DOC catalog is an incredible amount of savings. DOC has all the skills and tools to create whatever your agency or municipality needs, without all the overhead built into the cost.”

Extra Effort Equals Extra Savings

Contract 06PSX0151 - Taser, Electronic Control Devices and Accessories - was originally just for CT Public Safety. DAS was able to negotiate and extend this contract to all Connecticut Police Departments. This comes at a good time since the Hartford Police Department needs to order these items and there will be substantial savings to the City of Hartford by using this contract.

New Drug and Alcohol Testing Contract

As of September 2009, all using state agencies can now take advantage of the new drug and alcohol testing contract recently assembled by DAS Procurement.

Foley Services, Inc. of Glastonbury replaces Choicepoint, Inc. a LexisNexis Company of Bolingbrook, Illinois.

Foley Services is a leading provider of compliance solutions and drug-free workplace programs in the United States. The company currently manages Drug and Alcohol Testing Programs for more than 16,000 employers of all types and sizes.
